#1 TOP RATED Customer Support

What is so unique about Hondros Learning? It's how we approach our partnerships – with a total commitment to your success and the success of your students. Our roots are in the real estate school business, with an exceptional focus on adult career education – and achieving the highest pass rates in the industry.

Building on 40 years of experience, we are acutely aware of the education challenges you face. We get it. We embrace your challenges and offer a flexible approach that includes customized solutions to make your job easier. We have a proven track record of success – delivered through unsurpassed support for both you and your students. It is that kind of legacy that stands behind every quality product and service.

Hondros Learning is constantly investing in the future; a steady stream of new courses for real estate, appraisal and mortgage, the next generation CompuCram™ exam prep and our new LMS learning platform with advanced tools for tracking and reporting.

We are your true partner and our business model is entirely based on your success.

- Jerry Weissberg

TESTIMONIALS

HONDROS LEARNING™

Our customers say...

"We have worked with Hondros for many years. Their staff has always been flexible, friendly, supportive and attentive to our needs. They offer high quality education second to none."

John Manfred,
VP of Operations,
Manfred Real Estate Learning Center

"The customer service we have experienced working with Hondros Learning sets the bar for other online service providers as something every company should strive for. From the account representative to technical support, the process is customer friendly and expedient. We ask, they listen, and they respond!"

Tina Stepaniak,
Director of Professional Development
Chicago Association of REALTORS®

"It has been a true pleasure working with all the Hondros Support people. They will get back to me immediately and they always take care of any administrative issues I may have! Their support is truly amazing and I do everything via email to save time which is so valuable to me. I never have to call and go through a tiresome automated system, it's instantaneous whenever I need anything. Thanks so much Hondros for all you do!

Stephanie Jordan
Administraive Manager
Tucker School of Real Estate

"Hondros Learning has not lost the fine art of customer service as many other providers have. Their quick response to customer service needs and technical support is superior. They are truly concerned about their customers and the customer's students-I know I can depend on them to help me offer our membership the best classes and class experience available."

Carrie Elliott,
Education Manager
Illinois Association of REALTORS®
